OBITUARIES

Oakes H. Walter
Word has just been received of the death in Tampico, Mexico, December 29, of Oakes H. Walter. He leaves a mother, wife and small daughter in Phoenix.
Mr. Walter was 31 years of age. He came here several years ago and was engaged in the plumbing business until a little less than a year ago, when he moved with his business to Tampico. He later sent for his wife and daughter, but when he contracted what was thought to be a light case of malaria he sent them back to Phoenix. The news of his death was unexpected. His funeral was held in Tampico, as his body could not be sent to Phoenix, due to the fact that he died of malaria. Mr. Walter was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Dan Tereosen

SUES FOR INSURANCE—Suit to collect $1500 held on the estate of the defendant company by reason of an insurance policy taken out by himself on his house and household goods was filed yesterday against the United States Fire Insurance company by John J. Addington. Addington alleges the house was insured on July 23, 1921, and was destroyed by fire on July 23. The company, he says, has refused to pay the insurance on.

OVERLOOK $150—Sam H. Wo, Chinese merchant, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday morning that two masked bandits in an automobile had filed the car on the McDowell road and took about $150 from him. After relieving him of his money, they drove him to a "hole-in-the-rock," six miles east of Phoenix, where they tied him up and left him after disabling his car. He told the sheriff he had himself and walked to Phoenix, arriving about 3 o'clock in the morning. The bandits overlooked $150 in an auto pocket.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS AT DEWITT
Deputy Sheriff Al DeWitt and Gilbert Blanco were assigned to the case but so far have not found any clue to the identity of the bandits.

M. E. HOSPITAL AND CHURCH TO BENEFIT FROM SAMPSON WILL
The Arizona Deacons hospital and the First Methodist church in Phoenix are to receive $1000 each under the terms of the will and codicil of Gen. Archibald J. Sampson, who died at the family home, 660 North Third avenue, last Saturday, which was made yesterday in the superior court for probate by Mrs. Lucie Livermore, the daughter, and her husband, Francis M. Livermore. The codicil as executors to serve without bond. The estate is valued at $25,000 and consists of real property valued at $15,000 and personal property worth $10,000. The will was dated Jan. 15, 1921, and the codicil was dated Dec. 15, 1921.

The will bequeaths the interest of Gen. Sampson in the home at 660 North Third avenue, to his wife, whose death preceded that of her husband by several days. The bequest was made by the church and is divided equally between the church proper and the home missionary society. To the fund for superannuated preachers of the Methodist church in Phoenix, General Sampson gives $500. The First M. E. church of Sedalia, Mo., is given $300; Mount Union college at Alliance, Ohio, is given $1000; $500 is given to some hospital for children in the state, to be designated by his wife or in her absence the pastor of the Methodist church; $500 to some soldiers' home to be designated by the wife or the secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; and $500 for the relief of child suffering by reason of the late war. American or other nationality, as thought best by the wife or the pastor of the Methodist church.

In addition to these bequests $12 relatives of General Sampson have been given sums varying in amount. The codicil of the will was added to change the executorship of the estate from his wife to his daughter and her husband. The petition for the probate of the instruments will be heard before Judge Lyman on Monday afternoon, Jan. 2.

NEW YEAR PARTY AT GREEN MILL GARDEN
The Green Mill Garden will hold the center of the joy spotlight tonight, for the mill offers those seeking the spot of play for the last few minutes of the year, opportunities that no other amusement place can offer. Dancing from the early hours of the last day of the old year until the early hours of the first day of the new year, more fun and noise makers will be given as a mere courtesy of the management than anyone ever dreamed were manufactured, besides seeing and give place to the new without moving from one point to another just at the time when the party should be taking on its gayest air.

The only chimneys in the valley, which made such a big hit Christmas eve, again will come in tonight for the first time of the new year. Arranged as a part of the novelty program of Rodrick's novelty land and each one of the guests at the mill will receive the best attention that careful planning will allow. Every conceivable comfort for the guests has been arranged and a barrel of surprises are stored away for this New Year's Eve dance. The management wants you to say that it is the happiest New Year you have ever had.

TALK AND GRIDIRON 'STUNTS' FEATURE ROTARY LUNCHEON

"Ethics of Rotary as applied to every day business" was ably discussed by A. A. Betts of the state corporation commission during the weekly meeting of Rotarians yesterday. The talk proved to be a regular business man's sermon and was much appreciated by all present. Under the direction of P. O. Spillbury, chairman in charge of group B, a rousing gridiron program was presented. Clever satire, quips and burlesques on events of the past year cropped out with staccato quickness throughout the delightful entertainment. Prominent men of the city, business ventures, personal incidents, public happenings, all came in for a fair share of exploitation.

From various parts of the floor were interpolated roasts on pertinent topics and fellow members. These were clever and served to reveal the close personal acquaintanceship enjoyed by Rotarians who instantly recognized and placed various peculiar characteristics and happenings alluded to in these "shots" and burlesques on events of the past year. Howard Allen and Eugene Redewell carried away the honors of the gridiron entertainment with a tableau in which they represented Father Time carrying the sickle and garbed in the flowing robes. To the jolly tune of "Mr. Dooley" they sang in turn many verses directed at some local personage. The evening was accompanied by Cliff Carpenter and Peter Vene. Following are a few excerpts from a lengthy riot of such verses:

Oh, Mr. Dooley,
The year has been a mess
You see,
In nineteen twenty-two
We'll try and better do
It never was the fault of Rota-ry.

Wallace Button, benedict,
Well along in life,
Received congratulations when he won himself a wife.
When Doctor Stork was called,
It looks just like his father,
For the baby's head is bald.

Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
We think of safety pins and then we are
Surprised at Wallie
And think it jolly
That he is anybody's fond papa.

Dwight B. took a little trip
The battlefield to see,
And Dominick went with him
On a trip to Italy.
With Dwight B. gone things went to
We cabled him one night:
"Cotton tariffs taken off."
Please hurry home, dear Dwight."

Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
You spoiled Dwight B.'s vacation
Over set
He didn't care if
He saved the tariff.
We always can depend upon Dwight B.

Now certain followers of Debs
And yellow-streaked folk
Circulated a rumor that
Bill Thompson's bank was broke;
But Bill got down upon his knees
And prayed like mad old
The City of the Angels heard
And sent him lots of gold.

Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
You pulled a bonehead when you tried at that.
For Bill has billions,
Yes Bill has billions;
In fact, please note that Bill is waxing fat.

We had a great fantastic dance
Out in Masonic hall,
Where all the lords and ladies went
To see the show and the ball;
The saddest thing in all the year
It never clear was made
That when one dances at a ball
The piper must be paid.

Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Let not us forget the page of history fill.
It's diplomatic
And democratic
To pay for a Republican party's bill.

Since Mr. Volstead made us dry
Our city duds they found
That our city was dry;
Wouldn't nearly go around.
They hitched us to the Verde
With a mighty pipe of wood
The ladies were in their hair;
Before they never could.

Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Oh, Nineteen twenty-one,
Our papers were their boat a trifle soon.
Of salt there's still a lot;
In the sand several days later on an
The Verdel be here by crack o' doom.

CONCERT TOMORROW CITY JAIL TO BE REMODELED AND REFITTED

The following concert will be given by the Indian School band at its concert at the school at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon under the direction of John R. Green, director:

Overture, "The Sky Pilot," Laurens. Grand Potpourri, "Joy to the World," Arr. by Barnhouse. Waltzes, "Forget-Me-Not," Brooks. Selection, "Tannhauser," Wagner. Sacred Overture, "Joy to the World," Arr. by Barnhouse. March, "Stonewall Brigade," Ruebush.

Plans are now being considered for the complete remodeling and renovating of the city jail. Detailed blue prints for a new system of cells are in the hands of City Manager V. A. Thompson and have been approved by Chief of Police George Bristol.

Among the improvements which will be introduced by the installation of new cells will be more light and ventilation, more freedom of movement for the prisoners and a more secure jail, shower bath and wash room facilities and a lever system of operating the cell doors.

Instead of being jammed up against the walls, as most of the cells now are, the new ones will be open on all sides, a corridor four feet in width separating them from the walls. The cells will form a large square which will serve as the "bull pen." Over the cells and the pen in the center will be a heavy steel grating. This will form a perfectly secure enclosure within the present cell room, giving double protection against escape.

Gratings will be removed from the windows of the present cell room to admit more light and air. Through the partition which separates this room from the basement corridor double doors will be cut. When these doors are opened the air will be a very satisfactory circulation of air throughout the cell room.

A shower bath and lavatory facilities will be installed in the "bull pen" and similar improvements will be placed in a special cell for prisoners held on serious charges. This cell will be large enough to contain four men.

All cells will be equipped with steel cots which can be folded against the side of the uncoccupied cells.

From the standpoint of safety and from the viewpoint of the jailer one of the best features of the proposed new jail system will be the installation of levers to open and close all cell doors. At present the old fashioned cell locks are turned with a key. Much trouble has been experienced with this method because prisoners stuff the keyholes with chewing tobacco, gum and other filth. Under the system of levers the opening and closing of one or all cell doors may be accomplished from a lever box located outside the cell room and inaccessible to any prisoners.

Of special interest to the taxpayers is the fact that these cells are so arranged that they may be easily removed from one building to another, so that in case a new jail is erected the same cells can be transferred to it.

The plans have not progressed to the point of getting cost estimates on the work and material involved, but the improvement is considered so necessary that every effort will be exerted to rush it through at the earliest time practical.

A Canadian Pacific Railway train, consisting of 110 fully loaded cars of wheat, a water car and caboose, recently arrived at Arcola, Saskatchewan; 165,000 bushels of wheat were the cars. The train weighed approximately 6,885 tons.
